C&C Offset Printing Co., Ltd. commits to produce high quality and safety printed products to our customers since we incorporated in 1980. Our plant in Shenzhen is specialized in offset printing and does NOT include equipment that may use lead based ink.

Throughout the years, we have been using raw material, such as ink, glue and lamination film that in compliance to international safety standard in the area of heavy metal and phthalates content. While we require our raw material suppliers to test their products regularly (in an annual base), we have also carried out incoming inspection and random testing to ensure that material we used is safe. We also request, and monitor our sub-contractors to follow the same procedure for products that are produced for us.

We hereby confirm that our products meet the requirement of CPSIA in lead limit.
